HANCOCK SCHOOLS AIM TO SOAR AT READING

The Hancock County Board of Education has reviewed a breakdown of the third-grade reading scores from state-wide testing. Above: South Hancock Elementary School.

District works toward improvement after third-grade state-wide reading test scores

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Education on Monday heard a breakdown of the scores from the 2018-19 third-grade reading gate from Federal Program Director and ELA Coordinator Dr. Christine Moseley.

There were 324 students tested in the district. After taking the first test, 270 or 83.3 percent of students passed. 54 third-graders did not pass the first time, Moseley said.

There were 27 students who met the criteria for good-cause exemption, which means they either did not take the test or met the criteria, if they didn't pass, to be promoted anyway.

"Normally, those are our special education students or students who have been retained one time, or

With the inclusion of the good-cause exemption and retesting scores, the district's overall pass rate is 95.1 percent twice actually, second-or third-grade," Moseley said. "Those are students who will be promoted to the fourth-grade and don't have to pass because of good cause exemption."

The remaining 27 students took the retest, she said, and 11 passed.

The remaining 16 students are all enrolled in Camp SOAR, which began June 4 and will end with the final retest, which is scheduled for July 11.

Without the good-cause exemption, the pass rate at each school was: 95.4 percent at East Hancock; 85.1 percent at Hancock North Central; 80 percent at West Hancock; and 81.5 percent at South Hancock, Moseley said.

The overall pass rate for the district was 83.3 percent, which put the district in fourth-place out of the 15 school districts in South Mississippi.

Moseley also discussed the poverty rates at each of the schools: East Hancock, 49 percent; Hancock North Central, 70 percent; West Hancock, 75 percent; and South Hancock, 91 percent.

Moseley said that the district has an 11 to 21 percent special education population in the elementary schools.

A Hancock County deputy marks off the crime scene Friday evening at Bayside Park after a man was stabbed.

Kiln resident jailed after stabbing at Bayside Park

BY STACEY CATO CONTRIBUTING WRITER

A Kiln man was arrested early Saturday morning for allegedly stabbing another man during an altercation at Bayside Park late Friday evening.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies charged Michael Leon Denza, 46, with one count of aggravated assault -- manifesting extreme indifference to human life.

Witnesses at the scene said the two men had been drinking and got into a fight when Denza allegedly pulled out a knife.

The victim -- whose identity has not yet been officially released -- was transported first to Ochsner Medical -- Hancock Center, and later transferred to a New Orleans hospital. The victim's condition was also not available.

As of press time Tuesday, Denza was still being held at the Hancock County Justice Facility in lieu of a $20,000 bond.

Locals urged to apply now for MDA Gulf Coast Restoration funds

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Development Authority on Monday began taking applications for the Gulf Coast Restoration Fund.

According to the MDA's website, Gov. Phil Bryant signed SB2002 into law, which established the Gulf Coast Restoration Fund.

"The GCRF shall be used for programs and projects that have the potential to generate increased economic activity in the Gulf Coast region," the website states. "Applicants eligible for assistance include, but are not limited to, local units of government, non-governmental organizations, institutions of higher learning, community colleges, ports, airports, public-private partnerships, private for-profit entities, private nonprofit entities, and local economic development entities."

MDA and the GCRF advisory board will review and score applications, which will be presented to the Legislature no later than Dec. 1, 2019. The Legislature will determine which projects will be funded in an appropriations bill during the 2020 legislative session, the website states.

Supers eye contract with pest-control co.

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday authorized county attorney Gary Yarborough to send a notice of procedural default to Philip's Pest Control.

The board approved the motion after an executive discussion to discuss "potential litigation" with the pest control company.

According to the motion, the notice of procedural default concerns "full compliance with efficacy testing, surveillance periods and notice to county-appointed person under the agreement, placement of trap locations, calibration of equipment and all licensing matters, with the full reservation of all rights by the county."

The motion passed on a 3-0 vote. Supervisors Scotty Adam, Greg Shaw and David Yarborough voted "yes."

Board President Blaine LaFontaine recused himself from the executive session, the discussion and the vote on the motion due to the upcoming senate race between himself and Philip's Pest Control owner Philip Moran. Supervisor Darrin "Bo" Ladner was absent from Monday's meeting.

"There is no potential litigation," Moran said Tuesday. "I hired an attorney to get the facts straight to them. ... We have thoroughly answered every question that they have. We have provided proof of tests that they required as far as calibration of the equipment by a professional company -- all of that is in line."

"The voters of District 46 are no

MDOT participating in International 72-Hour Roadcheck

SEA COAST ECHO

For three consecutive days, Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) Enforcement Officers will be performing continuous inspections of commercial motor vehicles and their drivers as a part of the Commercial Vehicle Safety Alliance's (CVSA) International 72-Hour Roadcheck.

across the state to ensure they are operating legally," said Melinda McGrath, P.E., MDOT executive director. "These inspections check compliance with the law, but also educate commercial drivers about safety and hopefully reduce the number of crashes and fatalities on our roads."

During this marathon of inspections, a special emphasis is being placed on steering and suspension systems. The Roadcheck will take place throughout North America, including stations in Mississippi.

"The Roadcheck consists of a 37-step process that involves an examination of both the driver and vehicle," said Chief Willie Huff, MDOT enforcement director. "Officers will inspect items such as the braking system, coupling devices, exhaust system, frame, fuel system, lights, safe loading, steering mechanism, suspension, tires, windshield wipers and emergency exits on buses, among other things."

Drivers will also be asked to provide specific documentation and checked for seat belt usage and the use of alcohol or drugs.

The International 72-

Hour Roadcheck is the largest targeted enforcement program on commercial motor vehicles in the world, with nearly 17 trucks or buses inspected, on average, every minute in Canada, the United States and Mexico during a 72-hour period. In 2018, MDOT Officers from inspected 1,697 vehicles as a part of the Roadcheck during which 226 vehicles and 37 drivers were placed out of service due to violations.

"MDOT has zero tolerance for unsafe commercial vehicle drivers," said Huff. "We are proud to participate in the annual Roadcheck to ensure the safety of Mississippi's highways. Participating in an event such as this helps keep our roads, and those traveling on them, that much safer."

MDOT's Office of Enforcement is responsible for enforcing commercial vehicle safety regulations set forth by both federal and state laws, ensuring the safety of commercial motor vehicles and the general public traveling Mississippi highways. MDOT Enforcement Officers also issue permits for overweight and oversized loads in order to keep Mississippi roads and bridges safe while facilitating economic growth and development across the state.

fools -- they know what's going on. There were no problems (with this contract) for 2 1/2 years and now suddenly, just before the election, there are. It doesn't take a genius to understand what's going on here. ... Whatever questions (the supervisors) have, we will answer."

At the May 6 meeting, County Administrator Eddie Favre presented a summary of the Philip's Pest Control contract compliance review, which was conducted at the request of the city of Waveland.

The information requested included: Inventory of vehicles and GPS data for the contract; efficacy testing reports for past two years; explaining why only one type of mosquito is shown; identify state law that requires trapping from March through October; location for trap testing; documentation that mosquitoes have been properly sampled from each zone for West Nile for the past two years; documentation that samples have been sent to the Mississippi Department of Health; documentation of chemicals purchased to support miles sprayed, acreage treated, and miles treated for standing water claims submitted on monthly reports; proof of calibration and droplet testing of the application equipment used for trucks No. 10 and No. 12.

According to a summary of the review, the contractor was "unable to provide GPS tracking date for spraying activities during 2017 and 2018; does not have efficacy testing reports for the past two years and cannot prove the chemicals used are an effective deterrent to the mosquito population found in Hancock County; unable to provide records that reflect prior notice to the county of reduced or suspended periods of surveillance for adult mosquitoes; provided Gravid trap locations that do not reflect what was previously submitted in monthly activity reports; cannot provide records that they have properly sampled for West Nile virus from each zone for the last two years; surveillance program reports reflect significantly less trappings and species reported when compared to previous years; submitted inaccurate mosquito specimen testing documentation that does not match state records; provided no record the trucked mounted spray equipment was calibrated or had droplet testing accomplished for the past two years; and submitted documentation that reflects the amount of chemicals purchased over the past 24 months would not support the reported miles sprayed."

In other action:

An RFP opening for engineering services for Possum Walk Trail repairs and McLeod Park improvements is scheduled for June 17 at 10 a.m.

The board approved a motion allowing Firehouse Youth Ministries to use the county's event tent for its annual crawfish cook off scheduled for this Saturday at the Bay St. Louis train depot. The next regular board meeting is scheduled for June 17 at 9 a.m.

A turtle in need

It's that time of the year again, the weather is warming up, people are planning their summer vacations, and male turtles are on the hunt for females.

During my commute to Picayune – when I worked at the Picayune Item – which took me down Texas Flat Road, and my drive down to Highway 11 to Poplarville, I encountered several turtles crossing the road.

If safe to do so, I try and stop, make sure the turtle isn't injured, and then help the turtle complete its journey across the road.

One time during one of my evening runs down Nicholson Avenue, I spotted a turtle and moved it to a safer area, then further prolonged my run by watching the little guy walking through the grass. I think they are adorable animals. Although, a snapping turtle or an alligator turtle would probably scare me.

According to turtlerescueleague.com, between the months of April and October, male turtles look for females and territory, and females are looking for places to nest. In the late summer and fall, baby turtles are emerging from the nests searching for water. During this time, turtles are also looking for places to hibernate.

The website lists some great tips if you encounter a turtle: First, determine if its injured and needs medical care; second, when picking up a turtle, place your hands on either side of its shell behind the front legs and never pick up a turtle by the tail;

third, keep the turtle low to the ground when moving it so if it comes free from your grip, it will not fall and injure itself; fourth, when helping a larger turtle, gently push it forward with a blunt object; fifth, put the turtle in the direction it was heading, don't turn it around; finally, the website suggests to not relocate a turtle as they have "home ranges," territory they call home.

I follow this group on Facebook, Central MS Turtle Rescue, a non-profit group located in central Mississippi. They help rehabilitate injured turtles and are authorized to do so under an Administrative Rehabilitation Permit through the MS Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

Although the image of an injured turtle is often hard to see, I am in awe of the work these individuals do to help these creatures.

Most of the turtles are set free after they are rehabilitated. In some cases, turtles that cannot be released or are not native to Mississippi are adopted to new homes.

The website lists two coastal licensed wildlife rehabbers: Wild at Heart Rescue, Inc. in Vancleave; and Wildlife Care and Rescue Center, Inc. in Biloxi.

Both are listed as an all-species rescue/rehab.

This is great information to know should you come across an injured wild animal.

But please remember to only stop to help turtles or any other animals you see in the road if it is safe to do so.

It's Time to Get Outside

Guest Column

by Matilda Charles
Senior News Line

Winter has finally let go and summer is taking its first steps. But nearly all of us, no matter what kind of winter we experienced, are eager to get out and about. Here are some ideas for activities to do outdoors:

Community Garden: Do you have a community garden near where you live? These are often managed by local groups such as the senior center or the town. Each person who signs up is given a small plot of dirt to plant flowers and vegetables.

Sometimes fertilizers and tools are provided. All you need to do is show up and plant something, keep the weeds under control and reap the harvest at the end. If you have a community garden but don't think you can manage a whole plot, see if you can split it with a friend. If you end up with too many vegetables (think: cucumbers), donate extras to the food bank.

Plein Air Painting: Instead of painting in a studio or class, grab an easel and paints (and maybe a chair) and head for the outdoors. Consider watercolor paints instead of oil or acrylic. They dry quickly, and you won't have to struggle with getting a wet oil painting back home. With plein air painting, the whole world is your subject. If you're not familiar with this technique, check for online videos and tutorials. Once you get started you might discover a whole community of plein air artists around you.

Outdoor Qi Gong or Tai Chi: These classes can get you out in the fresh air and help with fitness. Remember that these two disciplines are good for core strength to help you avoid falls.

Investigate all the offerings through the local rec center. Water aerobics, museum field trips, photography meet-ups and golf lessons all are great ways to get outside.

Cochran Was One of Our Nation's Greatest Senators

A dear friend, fellow hunter and angler, and my former boss - Senator Thad Cochran – passed away on May 30. He was also family. Senator Cochran – the tenth longest serving Senator in United States' history - championed the conservation and sportsmen's agenda since he was elected to Congress. Cochran grew up hunting and fishing in Mississippi and valued the important lessons and experiences people gain from being outdoors. He consistently represented the interests of hunters, anglers and gun owners by supporting policies that protect our Second Amendment rights, promote conservation, especially on private lands, minimize burdensome or unnecessary regulations and expand public access to public lands.

Some people go to Washington to make a point. Thad Cochran did not go for that. Leader

Conservation Corner

by James L. Cummins

McConnell said it best: "Thad knows there's a difference between making a fuss and making a difference. Senator Cochran has played a crucial role with many pieces of legislation. We all know that Washington is filled with loud voices, but Senator Cochran's manner served our friend and this institution very well. A few years ago, he reached another important milestone when he cast vote number 12,000 here in the Senate. At that time, I mentioned that TIME magazine included Senator Cochran on its list of 'America's Top 10 Senators;' they named him 'The Quiet Persuader.'

Senator Cochran authored a wildlife incentives program—which has restored and enhanced almost 7 million acres with 31,000 landowners. He has championed Wetlands Reserve, which is a voluntary program that has restored 3 million acres with 18,000 landowners. He has helped create programs to restore longleaf pine and native grasslands. He has created the only refuge in the nation named for an African American—Holt Collier. And the list goes on. Add up the list above and Senator Cochran has touched about 12 million acres—the same size as the State of Maryland. There is NO other Senator with the conservation accomplishments of Thad Cochran.

But the greatest thing about Senator Cochran had nothing to do with conservation. It was the respect that people had for him. He earned that by listening more than talking, recognizing the needs of others, being honest, fair, and caring more about what is right than popular. He was a brilliant individual who did a great job by surrounding himself with a staff consisting of the same.

I don't have all of the answers, but I do know that the more people serving our great nation with traits like this, the better off our nation will be. We were all fortunate to have benefitted from his lifetime of dedicated service – 45 years - to the greatest nation in the world. I already miss his friendship – his laugh, his fine counsel, and his passion, among other things.

Mississippi Optometric Association to provide eye exams at no cost for students who did not pass third grade reading assessment

SEA COAST ECHO

JACKSON, MS – For the fifth year, the Mississippi Optometric Association (MOA) and the Mississippi Vision Foundation (MVF) will provide eye exams at no-cost to third graders who did not pass the state reading assessment test and do not have insurance. The exams are offered through July 31.

This year, with higher standards implemented by the Mississippi Department of Education, one in four of the state's third graders did not pass the literacy promotion test. Studies show that children who struggle to read are more likely to leave school without graduating; ultimately contributing to the poverty rates in our state.

"We know that vision is a greater predictor of academic success than socioeconomic status. And as citizens of Mississippi we have a vested interest in making sure all of our students have the tools and the opportunity to succeed at their highest abilities," said Dr. Amy Crigler, MOA President. "Vision is a better predictor of academic success than socioeconomic status. We are committed to identifying those students who have vision problems."

Statistics show that 25 percent of all school age children have vision problems and more than 80 percent do not get the help they need. Results of the MOA and MVF Third Grade Eye Exam program (aimed at students who did not pass the third grade reading assessment) reveal that 88 percent of the students who took advantage of the eye exams were found to be in need of some form of visual intervention.

State Superintendent of Education Dr. Carey Wright said, "We greatly appreciate the association's concern for our students' health and academic progress, and this annual opportunity for... eye exams is a wonderful example of community partnerships that will benefit students."

For students who are covered through private insurance, applicable co-pays may apply due to laws that require the doctor to collect this amount. All children, regardless of their family's ability to pay, will be seen by ODs participating in the program. The MVF, working with industry partners, will cover the costs for any student who needs an exam and is not covered through insurance. Additionally, industry partners are working with Mississippi ODs to provide glasses to any student whose eye exam reveals the need for corrective lenses.

To locate a participating optometrist, parents of eligible third graders should go to www.msvision-foundation.org or call 601.572.0845. When making the appointment, parents should tell the receptionist they are scheduling the third grade eye appointment.

They should bring the letter notifying them that their child did not pass the assessment test with them to the appointment.

Local Vietnam veterans share their homecoming experiences in PBS documentary Thursday

SEA COAST ECHO

A number of local Vietnam veterans are featured in the PBS documentary "The Lost Homecoming - When Our Vietnam Veterans Came Home" airing this Thursday, June 6 -- the anniversary of D-Day -- on the New Orleans PBS Station WYES (Channel 12).

The majority of the Vietnam veterans who share their experiences coming home from Vietnam are from the Bay St. Louis to Biloxi area.

The documentary, which originally aired in 2017, describes the negative way some Vietnam veterans were treated when they came home but emphasizes the growing respect and appreciation being shown to Vietnam veterans and highlights the 2014 Pass Christian Vietnam Veterans Homecoming Ceremony including many many of the dignitaries and veterans who participated in it.

While most Vietnam veterans post war adjustment has been good, a small number have had difficulty adjusting after the war. The documentary discusses how Vietnam veterans are our country's forgotten and unsung heroes and are long overdue for the respect and appreciation they deserve.

The documentary reports on new research showing a significant correlation between a negative homecoming and severity of PTSD symptoms among a substantial minority of Vietnam veterans. It also highlights the growing respect and appreciation being shown toward them by new generations as they realize the importance of Vietnam veterans answering our country's call in time of war.

Marine Corps veteran and retired Veterans Affairs psychologist Dr. Harold Dawley produced the documentary.

Two other documentaries will air Thursday, as well, including "Andrew Higgins: The American Noah," and "D-Day at Point-Du-Hoc."

Here is the complete schedule:

9 p.m.: Andrew Higgins: The American Noah -- Describes New Orleans ship builder Andrew Jackson Higgins's major contribution of the landing crafts that carried Marines ashore on Pacific island and Army troops on the D Day landing in WWII.

9:30 p.m.: D-Day at Pointe-Du-Hoc.

11:30 p.m.: Lost Homecoming: When Our Vietnam Veterans Came Home. Mississippi Gulf Coast Vietnam veterans willingly discuss their homecoming experience and the adverse affect it had on them.Nationally recognized experts in PTSD also describe the harm caused by a negative homecoming.

If you or a loved one have been diagnosed with Macular Degeneration and been told nothing more can be done...

A Low Vision Exam May Help.

More than 15 Million Americans are affected by some form of macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy and other conditions that cause low vision. The number is expected to double with the rapid aging of the US population.

Dr. Roderick D. Fields, is using miniaturized binoculars or telescopes to help people who have lost vision from macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy and other conditions that cause low vision.

"Some of my patients consider me the last stop for people who have vision loss", said Dr. Fields, a low vision optometrist. Since 2006, many who had given up hope of ever seeing again have come to see Dr. Fields in one of his statewide satellite clinics "My job is to figure out everything and anything possible to keep a person functioning visually," says Dr. Fields.

"Whether it is driving, reading, watching television or seeing faces. I work with whatever is on a person's wish list." For the past decade, Dr. Fields has provided individual approaches for people with moderate to severe vision loss.

If you've been told nothing more could be done, it may be time for a second opinion.

This past Saturday was my first venture back to MGM Park in over a year. It was a great day for a game. The sun had been out the majority of the day with just a slight sprinkle making the temp a balmy 83 degrees at first pitch. The players were warming up on the turf tossing the hardball around with some socializing with the youngsters in the stands. That familiar tune was belted out over the loudspeakers paying tribute to all our loved ones lost throughout the years in defense of this great country. And, for the first time, I heard the umpire shout "Play ball!" from the press box. I had been in this stadium before but have taken in all the festivities among the droves of fans in the seats cheering on our local team, the Shuckers. I made the decision to spend the evening at the park mainly because I am simply just a sports fan(atic). However, another reason was the Chicago Cubs' Double-A Affiliate Tennessee Smokies were in town. I have been a life-long Cubs fan ever since my parents took me to an exhibition game at the Superdome in 1978. My favorite player of all-time is 2015 MLB Hall of Fame inductee and former Cubs 2B Ryne Sandberg. This was not just a chance to get back to the ballpark but it was also a chance to possibly see the next great Cub. The game started off well for the homestanding Shuckers as they took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning when Dillon Thomas singled home Trent Grisham who advanced due to a walk. But, the lead would not last. Tennessee responded with a five-run second inning to take a 5-1 lead highlighted by Charcer Burks' three-run blast. Tennessee added another run in the top of the third inning. The Smokies did not register a hit in innings four through nine. The Shuckers plated a run in the fourth inning as Cooper Hummel drove in C.J. Hinojosa with a triple. Biloxi added two runs in the fifth inning when Grisham smacked a solo homerun and Bruce Caldwell knocked in Thomas with a double that made the score 6-4. In the sixth inning,

Patrick Leonard hit a sacrifice fly that drove in Grisham who reached base all six times to the plate. Later in the sixth, Thomas singled to drive in Hummel which knotted the score at 6-6. In minor league baseball with extra innings, a bonus runner is sent to second base at the start of the inning. The Smokies scored with their bonus runner when a throw to home plate from first base skipped to the backstop making the score 7-6. In the bottom half of the tenth inning, the Shuckers loaded the bases with two outs but could not plate a runner. Grisham led the charge at the plate for Biloxi with two hits including a double and a solo homerun along with four walks. Thomas and Max McDowell both had two hits. The Smokies were paced by Burks and Roberto Caro with two hits each. The Shuckers collected 10 hits to the Smokies eight. But, the difference in the game was the 13 runners left on base for Biloxi while Tennessee stranded just four. The loss left Biloxi with a record of 31-24 which is second in the South Division of the Southern League while Tennessee improved to 27-27 that puts them in fourth place in the North Division. The Shuckers left 13 runners on base while the Smokies stranded just four. It was a nice evening spent from a perch that I had not occupied before. It was a good day to see the next group of Cubs that might grace the turf within the friendly confines of Wrigley Field. But, most importantly, it was a great day simply because I was back at the ballpark. See you at the game!

OLD TOWN HEATS UP FOR JUNE ARTWALK

BY CAROLINE ST. PAUL and DENISE K. JACOBS

The Old Town Merchants Association (OTMA) and its members invite you to experience the Second Saturday Art Walk this Saturday, June 8. Also known as Second Saturday, the event has become a regional favorite and regularly draws visitors from New Orleans to Biloxi.

Each month during Second Saturday, two OTMA members are featured as Hot Spots, and Pop Brothers and The Porch at Century Hall are this month's picks. Between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m., visitors can stop by the Hot Spots and other shops for refreshments and live music. Bring the kids! Pass a good time.

The summer months are approaching, which means the warm temperatures will be here before we know it. Cool off with gourmet popsicles at Pop Brothers located on Main Street.

Shannon Arzola, her husband, Octavio, and brother, Chuck Kelly, own Pop Brothers, which has locations in Gulfport, Ocean Springs, and most recently, Bay St. Louis. "We're in downtowns in every city—that's where we feel the most comfortable" she said.

Pop Brothers "evolved from a big desire to be back on the Coast," Shannon explained. After having been gone for ten years due to her husband's job, she was "ready to come home." Shannon asked her husband if they could quit their jobs and open up a popsicle store, which is something that they had previously talked about.

Shannon's reasoning for coming home to open the store had to do with her reliable resources here, including a strong connec-

Shannon's goal for the business in the future is to "stay interesting enough to get people to come in the door." They plan to do this by changing the menu up every so often so that there is always something new for people to try. "People are happy all the time...it's a popsicle-it's a happy thing on a stick!" THE PORCH

The Porch is an eclectic "farmhouse/industrial/beach" shop located in Century Hall on Second Street.

JoAnn Saucier opened The Porch in Bay St. Louis on June 1, 2017. She previously owned The Porch in New Orleans for twelve years. After selling their house in New Orleans, they "were trying to decide what to do next."

After visiting friends in Bay St. Louis "on several occasions," JoAnn said, "we just fell in love." They saw a house under construction and decided to buy it. They moved here three years ago, and the rest is history.

JoAnn began with a small space in The French Potager. Soon, Century Hall sold and there was space available. She "rented it on the spot and that was the beginning."

"The people here have been so welcoming" JoAnn says, citing the community as "kind, and giving." As for her favorite part about being in Bay St. Louis, she says she enjoys the fact that "there's just always something going on for such a small place...almost overwhelm-

Her merchandise at The Porch is "a little bit further out there." Nevertheless, this unique shop is where you can find something to decorate your home for every occasion, gifts, and other lovely things.

Her goals for the future of The Porch include continuing "to try to find new lines and new things...newer and better options" as well as "continuing to build the business and help people find us." The Porch has a bright future indeed.

For June 8 Second Saturday, enjoy refreshments and a sale at The Porch! Music will be sponsored by Hancock Whitney Bank, The First, and The People's Bank. Enjoy The Porch as a hot spot for the entire month of June.

GALLERY 220 CELEBRATES 35TH CREATIONS' 35TH ANNIVERSARY!!!

Please join Clay Creations as it celebrates "35 Years of Cheer" during the Second Saturday Art Walk on June 8, from 4:00pm to 8:00pm. Light refreshments will be served.

Jenise McCardell, ceramic artist, began the business in New Orleans in 1980, working out of craft carts at the old Jax Brewery and the Riverwalk. In 1993, McCardell relocated to Bay St. Louis, where the business grew to include her husband, Mark Currier, potter and "plaster master." Later, daughter Devon added her own designs to the business.

McCardell's favorite creations are custom pieces created from the photos of homes and businesses. These pieces are sculpted from white clay, hand-painted, and fired twice in a high temperature kiln. Countless pieces from over 1000 designs fill the studio walls, and McCardell has a faithful following of loyal customers whose memories have been etched in clay.

Clay Creations shares an historic art-deco building with Gallery 220, a co-op of over 25 local and regional artists. The Gallery is located two blocks north of the beach in Bay St. Louis at the corner of Main and Toulme.

Enjoy free food and libations and door prizes, plus a free gift with purchase.

Hancock County's local newspaper since 1892

The government's business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.

SCAN TO READ THE SURVEY SUMMARY

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

Mississippi American Legion Auxiliary Girls State now open

SEA COAST ECHO

The American Legion Auxiliary's marquee Girls State program, first presented in 1937, is one of the most respected and coveted experiential learning programs presented in the United States.

The program epitomizes the ALA's mission to honor those who have brought us our freedom through our enduring commitment to develop young women as future leaders grounded in patriotism and Americanism. The young women become knowledgeable of the democratic process and how our republic form of government works at the state and local levels.

Each summer, approximately 16,000 young women participate in week-long ALA Girls State programs across the nation. Every American Legion Auxiliary Girls State program operates with the same patriotic values through a nonpartisan curriculum where students assume the roles of government leaders, campaigning in mock parties (often called "Federalists" and "Nationalists") to become mayors and county and state officials of their ALA Girls State. The program is a week-long immersive learning experience, often held on a college campus where girls live in "cities" within a dormitory-like setting. The learning, experience, memories, and friendships last a lifetime.

Mississippi's Girls State program began Sunday, June 1 at the University of Southern Mississippi, and will conclude Thursday, June 6 with "Legion Night" where the delegates are joined by members of the American Legion and Auxiliary from around the state. Approximately 250 girls will attend to nominate, elect, and serve in political offices from their city, county, district and state. Delegates will be hands-on all week with assistance from actual political leaders from both parties.

Locally, Clement R. Bontemps Unit 139 will be represented by six young women from our area. Shelby Jarrell, Mattie Maloy, Brayleigh Spiers, and Jennah Williams attend Pearl River Central High School in Carriere. Renee Harris attends Poplarville High School. McKay Dockery is from Biloxi.

2018 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report
Standard Dedeaux Water Association
PWS#: MS 0230063
May 2019

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Quality Water Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Kenny Hoda, Board President at 228.255.6800. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. Please attend meeting scheduled for the second Tuesday of each month at 6:00 PM at 24084 Standard Dedeaux Road, Kiln, MS 39556.

Our water source is from wells drawing from the Graham Ferry Formation Aquifer. The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing upon request. The wells for the Standard Dedeaux Water Association have received lower susceptibility rankings to contamination.

We routinely monitor for contaminants in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. This table below lists all of the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2018. In cases where monitoring wasn't required in 2018, the table reflects the most recent results. As water travels over the surface of land or underground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive materials and can pick up substances or contaminants from the presence of animals or from human activity; microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm-water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm-water runoff, and residential uses; organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations and septic systems; radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk.

In this table you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Action Level - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - The “Maximum Allowed” (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - The “Goal”(MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) – The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary to control microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) – The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk of health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

TEST RESULTS

10. Barium	N	2018	.0095	.0085 - .0095	ppm	2	2	Discharge of drilling wastes; discharge from metal refineries; erosion of natural deposits

Chlorine	N	2018	1.9	0 – 3.57	mg/l	0	MDRL = 4	Water additive used to control microbes

* Most recent sample. No sample required for 2018.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Our water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing. Please contact 601.576.7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by substances that are naturally occurring or man made. These substances can be microbes, inorganic or organic chemicals and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 1-800-426-4791.

The Standard Dedeaux Water Association works around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future.
